Nower Hill High School E-Safety Policy

Rationale

There have been a number of studies highlighting the growing importance of E-Safety amongst young people. 40% of Key Stage 3 and 4 students have witnessed a 'sexting' incident and, in the same group, 40% did not consider topless images inappropriate. 28% of Key Stage 3 and 4 students have also been deliberately targeted, threatened or humiliated by an individual or group through the use of mobile phones or the internet. These statistics highlight the need for appropriate e-safety policies and procedures to be put in place within schools in order to support and protect our students.

Introduction

In 2007 the government commissioned from Dr Tanya Byron a review of the risks that children face when using the internet and video games. Subsequently the 'Byron Review' was published, setting out a challenging agenda for the Government, its partners, industry and the third sector, to work together to make children safer when using the internet and video games. The Government accepted all of Dr Byron's recommendations in full, signifying a commitment to children's safety when using new technology. Due to technological advances, E-Safety has become more and more important as new technology, devices and ever younger students immerse themselves in the online world.

This E-Safety policy applies to all adults, including volunteers, working in or on behalf of our school, and is a document which demonstrates how everyone working in or for our school shares a commitment to keeping children safe from harm and abuse whilst being online or using new technologies

The Education and Inspections Act 2006 empowers Headteachers to such extent as is reasonable, to regulate the behaviour of students when they are off the school site and empowers members of staff to impose disciplinary penalties for inappropriate behaviour. This is pertinent to incidents of cyber-bullying or other Online Safety incidents covered by this policy, which may take place outside of the school, but is linked to membership of the school.

The 2011 Education Act increased these powers with regard to the searching for and of electronic devices and the deletion of data. In this case, action can only be taken over issues covered by the published Behaviour Policy. The school will deal with such incidents within this policy and associated behaviour and anti-bullying policies and will, where known, inform parents / carers of incidents of inappropriate Online Safety behaviour that take place in or out of school.

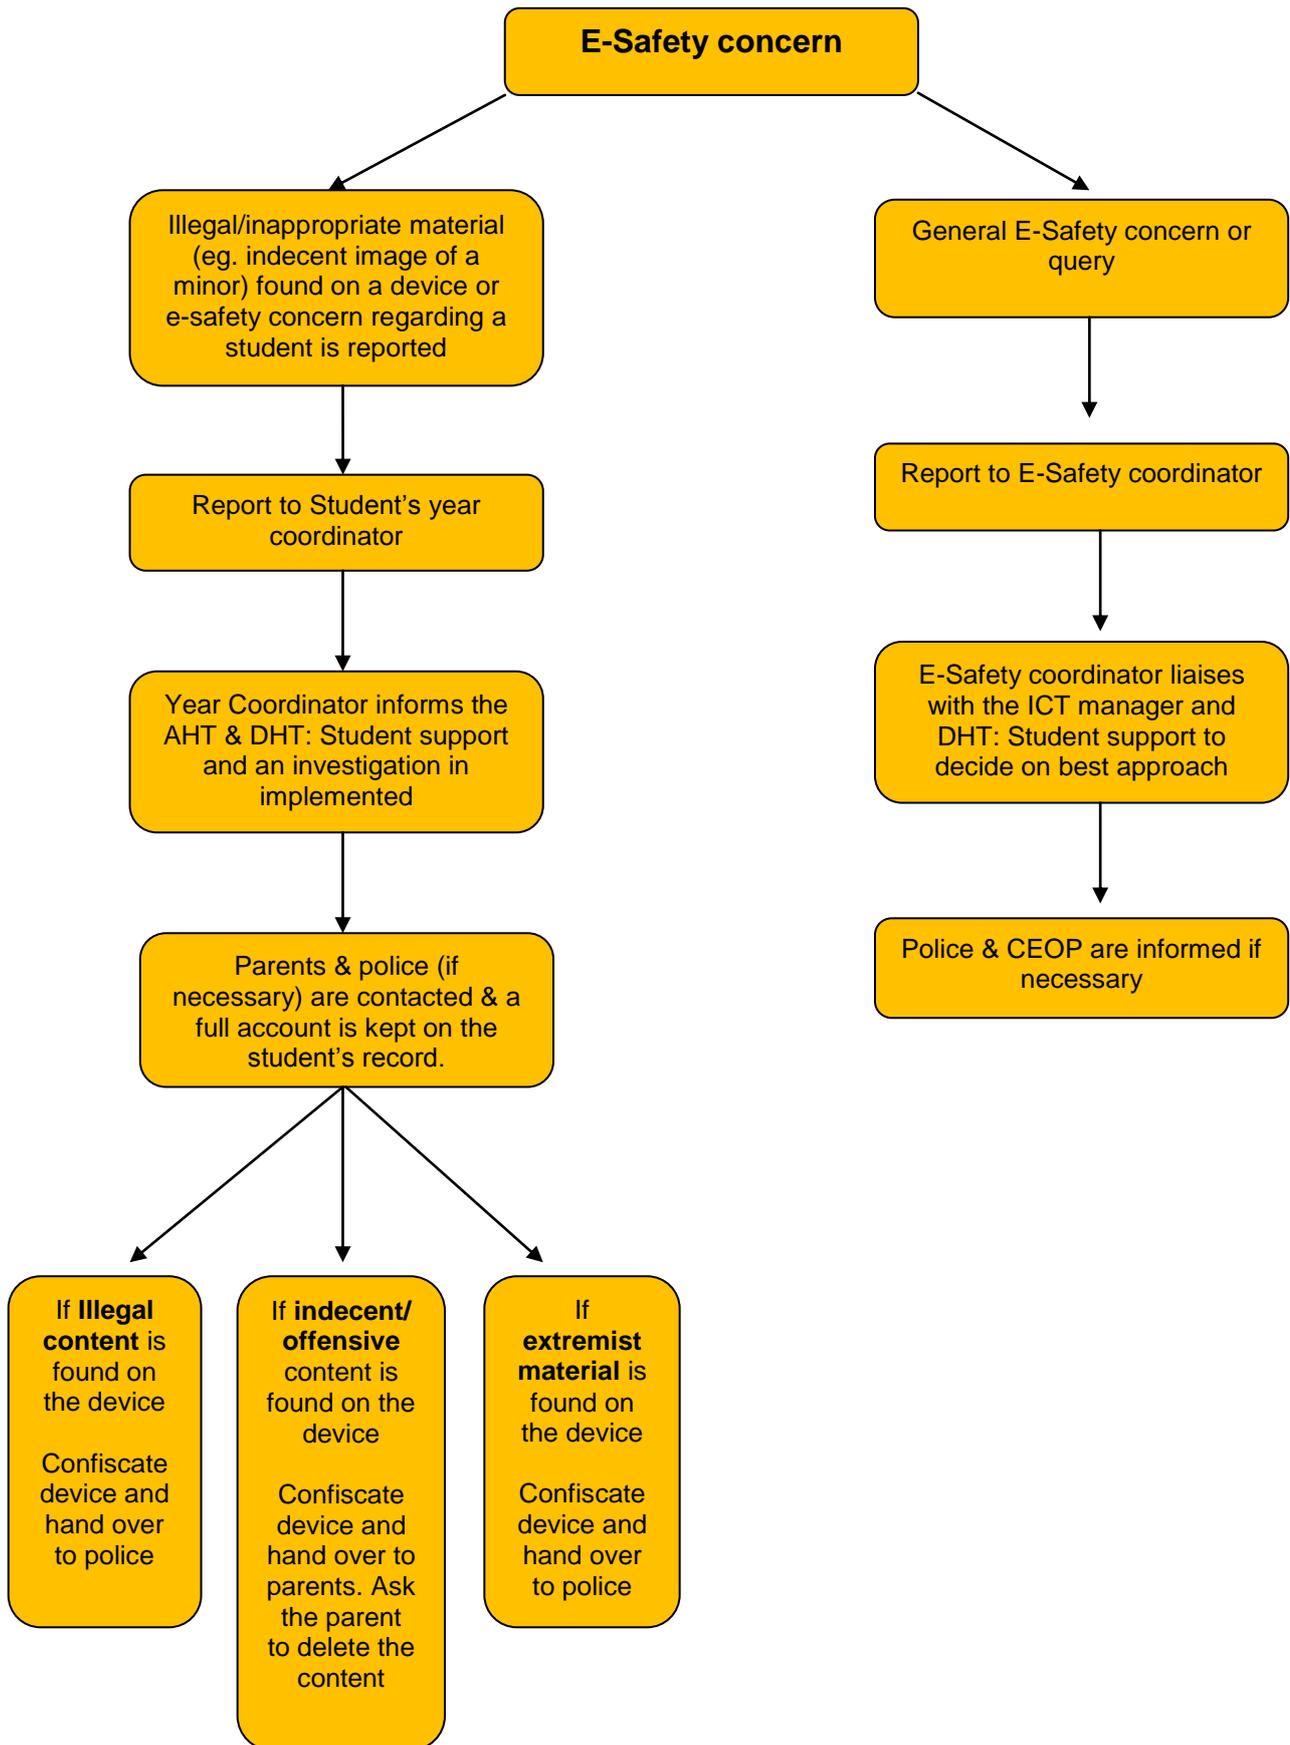

Responsibilities

Staff member	Responsibilities
Governors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Governors are responsible for the ratification of the E-Safety Policy and for reviewing the effectiveness of the policy.
Headteacher	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Headteacher has a duty of care for ensuring the safety (including E-Safety) of members of the school community, though the day to day responsibility for online safety will be delegated to the E-Safety Co-ordinator The Headteacher and Deputy Headteacher, Student Support should be aware of the procedures to be followed in the event of a serious online safety allegation being made against a member of staff. The Headteacher is responsible for ensuring that the E-Safety Coordinator and other relevant staff receive suitable training to enable them to carry out their online safety roles and to train other colleagues, as relevant. The Headteacher will ensure that there is a system in place to allow for monitoring and support of those in school who carry out the internal online safety monitoring role. This is to provide a safety net and also support to those colleagues who take on important monitoring roles.
